

STAND ON THE POPULIST PLATFORM.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS PRONOUNCE FOR TICKET AND PLATFORM. POPULIST FUSION REFUSED.

The Executive Committee Empowered to State the Convention's Reason for This Course.

PORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 20.—The Texas State Democratic Convention finished its work last night and adjourned sine die. The platform is long and devoted mostly to State affairs. On national questions it is as follows:

"1. We endorse the principles of the Democracy as set forth in the platform of the National Convention, which convened at Chicago, July 7, and pledge to William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall our united and cordial support for President and Vice-President.

"2. We endorse in toto the platform of our National Convention, but we do not commend and approve the declarations for an income tax, opposition to the issue of bonds in times of peace, against the power of banks to issue money, for a tariff for revenue that is too high, against discrimination against classes or sections, and for the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver, at the ratio of 16 to 1, and for legal tender quality and without reference to the action of other Governments.

At midnight the convention declared the Populist request for division of Electors on any terms for President or Vice-President. It empowered the incoming Executive Committee to later on give the public its reasons for so doing.

POPULIST PLANS.

quarters for the campaign in Chicago and Washington.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The Executive committee of the Populist party has adjourned subject to the call of the Chairman. It has accomplished all that could be done at the present time in arranging for headquarters here and branch headquarters in Chicago.

It was decided that J. R. Soverign should be assigned to the Chicago headquarters, which will be in the management of Mr. Washburn of Massachusetts. Chairman Butler, of course, will be in charge here and will give his whole attention to the campaign.

Mr. Butler will be assisted by Secretary Edgerly, who will be here during most of the campaign. C. H. Pierce, chief of the Senate Committee on Education, will be in charge of the sending out of documents. Mr. Butler said to-day that the class of literature which was to be sent out has not yet been decided upon. As far as possible documents, which will be sent out by the party, these include speeches by Populists in Congress and some of Tom Watson's will be among the number selected. Some of the literature being sent out by the Populist party will be distributed by the Silver Committee. During the campaign, Mr. Butler said this morning that the committee was not yet decided upon the want of funds and Secretary Edgerly said that the committee must rely upon voluntary subscriptions as much as possible.

"We have clipped in," said Chairman Butler, "to pay our expenses thus far. We have no rich men to make large contributions for campaign expenses. We expect we will have to make a campaign like others we have made in the past. We have managed with very little money."

Chairman Butler will enter into correspondence with Populist leaders and will free silver leaders in various parts of the country at the present time. He will also adjust of all existing difficulties which will bring the supporters of silver and Bryan into harmonious action.

The Silver party and the Populist party to-day morning in headquarters in the Democratic party in the Wormley building. The rooms occupied by the Populist party are being put in the hands of Populist parties are being put in order for their occupation. Vice-Chairman Stevens said that the Populist party in Chicago would be every bit as important as the headquarters in Washington and would have charge of the campaign in the Western States.

PLATT'S CONVENTION.

Gossip About the New York Republican Candidates.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—With a majority of delegates to the State Convention ready to support him Thomas C. Platt will start for Saratoga to-morrow night, where the nomination for Governor and Lieutenant Governor will be made. Each day brings new possibilities as to who the nominees may be. Hamilton Fish and his friends insist that he has been the favorite of the Governor's chair by pushing through the House, of which he was Speaker, all the "regular" legislation, including the Raines excise law.

George W. Ladd, State Superintendent of Public Works, has distributed his important patronage always in the interests of the organization. It is determined that he must not be pushed to the wall in what Mr. Platt has declared to be a free-for-all fight.

Congressman Wadsworth is a good organization man. Mr. Platt tried to get on the State ticket two years ago. He has been among Republican leaders and not a few have gained the impression from some source that the organization would like to see Wadsworth head the State ticket this time.

Then there is J. B. Foss, and the rumor from Albany is renewed that if Governor will be renominated he will not refuse the nomination.

Over the hopes of all organization candidates hangs the threatening canvass of Charles F. Smith, who is a member of the organization prior to any other candidate named.

But whatever Mr. Platt decides is best for the Platt machine will be done and the voters will be permitted to ratify Mr. Platt's action. A boiling contest is talked about by the Warner Miller men.

FUSION IN ILLINOIS.

Chairman Taubeneck Takes a Hopeful View of the Situation.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 20.—Hon. Herman E. Taubeneck of Marshall, Chairman of the People's Party State Central Committee, arrived here last evening on business connected with his party and to arrange for the establishment of State headquarters in this city. He stated that he will to-day select a suitable location for headquarters and that Mr. Charles E. Palmer of Richland County, the Secretary of the new Central Committee, will be left in charge of the State while he (Taubeneck) is stopping the State during the campaign.

When asked how the situation looked at this date for the "fusion" ticket and the progress of free silver, Chairman Taubeneck replied that it never looked brighter than it does at the present time. He held that the farmers especially were generally "reading up" on the money question and were to-day better posted than ever on the money question in the State. Their knowledge of the money question was doing the cause of free silver incalculable good and could not but help to result beneficially to the ticket. He said that a great number of old-line Republicans throughout the central and southern portions of the State especially had cast their lines with Democracy and would vote for Bryan and Alford. He was positive that the goldbugs had made no inroads upon the Populist portion of the party and felt certain they had not done any damage so far to Democracy.

Mr. Taubeneck will enter actively into this campaign, and besides having control of the Populist wing of the fused ticket will take the stump in many places throughout the State. He is in excellent health and states he can do as much work and as hard work right now as he ever could in his life.

Mr. Taubeneck will remain here to-day and then probably go to Chicago to attend to matters there.

During the day and evening Chairman Taubeneck and his wife and daughter held several short conferences, making arrangements for matters of import to both parties.

KENTUCKY GOLDBUGS.

The State Convention Getting Together at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 20.—Delegates to the Gold Standard Democratic Convention began to arrive last night and a good attendance is expected. Among the prominent participants in its proceedings will be Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge and ex-Gov. S. B. Buckner, who are in the city. Music Hall has been handsomely decorated and sections assigned for the various districts.

The State Executive Committee held a meeting last night at the Galt House, Chairman George M. Davis presiding. The subject under discussion was the platform. They did not attempt to draft it completely, but made suggestions as to what it should contain. During the meeting Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge was consulted about some matters pertaining to the platform. It was decided that the meeting should be held at Louisville and that the name of the committee should be named for temporary headquarters.

The Committee on Organization will report the make-up of the State Central and State Executive committees and a campaign committee, to be composed of eleven members, one from each of the congressional districts, in order that the meetings or consultations may be held without the necessity of long trips by the members. NEBRASKA GOLD STANDARDS.

Conference Called to Decide Important Questions.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 20.—There will be an important meeting of gold standard Democrats at Omaha this evening to discuss the situation in Nebraska. It has been called by the Nebraska State Central Committee. The first thing that will be done is to elect a permanent sound money Democrats. As all meetings will probably be held upon the policy to be pursued by the organization, a full attendance is expected. There are two principal questions before the Nebraska gold standard Democrats. The first is what shall be the policy of the organization in the State and the second is to elect a permanent sound money Democrats. As all meetings will probably be held upon the policy to be pursued by the organization, a full attendance is expected. There are two principal questions before the Nebraska gold standard Democrats. The first is what shall be the policy of the organization in the State and the second is to elect a permanent sound money Democrats.

The actual work will begin next week, although the officials at the national headquarters of the league have been preparing for several months. It is expected that this canvass will cover every county in the country and that when it is completed the Republican managers will know exactly where they stand on both the money question and presidential candidate.

As a starter 10,000 letters of instruction have been mailed to the various counties as soon as they arrive. As the canvass progresses reports will be made to the National Executive Committee.

SPLIT ALL TO PIECES.

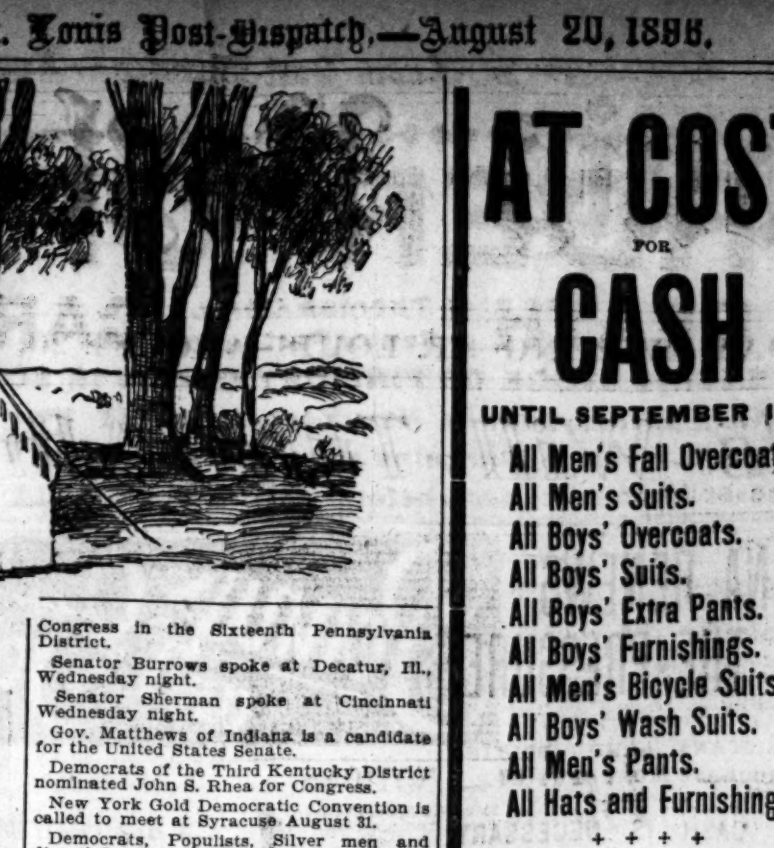

A Silver Wedge Dissolves Don Dickinson's Law Firm.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 20.—A dissolution of the legal partnership of Don M. Dickinson, H. T. Thurber and Elliott G. Stevenson, is announced to take place on Sept. 1. The announcement is of interest not only involving a change in the relations of gentlemen who are recognized as standing among the foremost at the bar of Michigan, but also because of the fact that the firm included Mr. Dickinson, one of the advisers to the President; Mr. Thurber, private secretary to the executive manager of the Democratic State Central Committee, and Mr. Stevenson, one of the most prominent members of the Michigan Democratic party. Mr. Dickinson is said to have been much displeased when he returned from the East and found that Mr. Stevenson had to some extent compromised the firm by accepting the chairmanship of the State Central Committee and becoming responsible for the Bryan campaign in Michigan. Mr. Stevenson resigned the chairmanship, but the firm continued to operate. INDIAN LYNCHED.

He Had Criminally Assaulted an Estimable Young Lady.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Aug. 20.—Frank Biles, a half-breed Indian from the Nez Perces reservation, was taken from the Asotin jail last night and hanged by a mob of indignant citizens. His crime was the criminal outrage of Miss Mary Richardson, a young woman from his home in Enterprise, Ore., who had come to Asotin on horseback unattended. Yesterday she started from Lewiston for Asotin on horseback unattended. On the road she was overtaken by Biles and two Indians from the reservation and assaulted. Last night at 11 o'clock a band of about thirty citizens marched to the jail and demanded the release of the prisoner. The sheriff refused to comply and the keys were taken from him by force. IGN.
THE RACING
BOA. BOARD OF TRADE.
WILL FIGHT TO A FINISH.

Declines to Talk About the Matter—A Fight All Along the Line—
Sporting News.

The resolution passed by the Cycle Board of Trade on Tuesday demanding the resignation of Mr. D. W. Robert from the L. A. W. Racing Board created a sensation in local cycling circles when published by the Post-Dispatch Wednesday afternoon. Information of the matter came to the Post-Dispatch at a late hour Wednesday, but nothing material beyond what was printed then has developed.

Mr. Robert admitted that he received the resolution of the Board of Trade asking him to resign. He is president and manager of the L. A. W. and was willing enough to talk about other matters but when the question of the resolution was brought up he was silent.

He did however say in the hearing of a Post-Dispatch reporter that he was not going to resign. A friend was talking to him and said:

"Suppose you resign?"
"Oh, I'm not going to resign at all," exclaimed the local manager with an impatient air.

Board of Trade members were very shy about talking Wednesday, but when they saw that the cat was out of the bag, they spoke freely Thursday.

They all say the question of asking Robert to resign was not a serious one. It was a postponed meeting, called to fix the scale of repair prices. Several of the members had been to Louisville, and naturally talk was going on about the big meet. This brought the subject of the coming St. Louis meet, and one man wondered why St. Louis could not have just as good a meet. Then somebody said that the big racing men would not come here, as they disliked Robert. Another claimed that he knew that would not be the case. Several others said that the racing men had told them that they never would come to St. Louis as long as Robert was in charge of cycling here.

Finally one member jumped up and proposed that Mr. Robert be asked to resign. The motion was seconded and passed without a dissenting voice.

When asked what they proposed to do in case Robert refused to resign, a member of the board said:

"Of course, we can't make him resign or we can't have him first. But we propose to let the public know that we do not intend to follow the policy of the Associated Cycling clubs of which he is president and prime mover. This fight is not on Robert so much as on the A. C. C. who have not managed cycling properly. We who have money invested in the business are looking out for our own interests. The members of the A. C. C. have not got a cent in the business. They would not have had a track this year if it were not for the money they have put out of our purses in the race meets and prize money. Then they come out and tell us that they are not going to follow the policy of the Associated Cycling clubs. We want the public to know that the Cycle Board of Trade is not going to follow the policy of the A. C. C. and that Mr. Robert does not represent cycling in St. Louis. Personally he is all right, but he cannot represent the Board of Trade."

The trouble with the A. C. C. has been that they had not the money requisite to run a meet. They could not afford to lose cent. Now the Board of Trade is in a position to think it well spent, as it will bring in trade.

Friends of Mr. Robert admit that the cycling chasers refused to come here because they do not like him. He suspended several riders for violating the rules. They say that P. Ed Spoor, who was a member of the board, is an enemy of Robert's, and as his influence is paramount with the cycling men, he will not come to St. Louis when Spoor advised them not to.

A member of the board who is a Post-Dispatch reporter said that the fight was only in its infancy and that a general assault would be made at any time on the powers that have ruled cycling for years.

When the Board of Trade refused to follow the policy of the A. C. C., it was a blow to Mr. Robert, who gave him five days in which to make a reply. He refused to resign, they will then publish documents to the effect that they disapprove of the policy adopted by Mr. Robert and the A. C. C., and will appeal to the public for support.

Mr. Robert has been a member of the Cycling Board for two years. Prior to his appointment he was very popular with the cyclists, but when he began to enforce the racing rules, he lost his popularity. The famous case of Cabbane, Titus and Murphy brought him before the public and earned him a whole lot of undesired notice. Like almost every other racing member, he is unpopular with racing cyclists.

.. JUGGY.

RIDING ABOUT TOWN, SNATCHING PURSES FROM WOMEN.

POLICE CANNOT CATCH THEM.

As Bold and Desperate as the Long and Short Fellows Who Raided Chicago.

Pretty women who go strolling about town with their pocketbooks in their hands had better follow Judge Murphy's instructions and keep their purses out of sight, or else carry a bodyguard with them.

Three men in a buggy are driving through the streets snatching all the purses in sight. They have already been eminently successful in three instances and have started Chief Desmond to doing some pretty hard thinking.

Unless their depredations are stopped they bid fair to rival in notoriety the long man and the short man of Chicago, who held up scores of men right under the noses of the Windy City police with perfect impunity.

The Chief of Detectives doesn't want anything like that down here and he has vowed that he will get these three venturesome highwaymen if it takes an arm and a leg to do it.

To be fair with the boss detective the crimes have only been committed since Tuesday afternoon, so that he has hardly had a chance to see what his sleuths can do.

In this short time, however, three women have been held up in broad daylight and robbed of their pocketbooks right on the street.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Frances Weston of 233 Allen avenue was robbed at Glasgow and St. Louis avenues. Wednesday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, Mrs. Wm. Hoppaugh of 720 North Vandeventer avenue was robbed of her purse, containing $2, right in front of her house.

An hour and a half later Mrs. Mary Leidig of 1311 Ohio avenue had her purse snatched from her hand at Cardinal and Park avenues.

The same three men were the perpetrators of all three crimes. The descriptions are identical as to their personal appearance.

The only difference in their manner of working was that in the case of Miss Weston the men had a black horse. In the two later robberies a bay carried them to safety.

Miss Weston was robbed about 2:30 p. m. She was just crossing St. Louis avenue. In her hand, as is the custom of women, she carried her pocketbook. It contained $5.

About the time she reached the middle of the crossing, a buggy drawn by a black horse and driven by three young men, came driving west on St. Louis avenue. When abreast of her, the animal was thrown back on his haunches and one of the occupants of the buggy sprang lightly to the ground.

Naturally, the young woman paid little, if any, attention to the incident.

The young man who had alighted stepped quickly to her side.

Without a word he grabbed her pocketbook and made a leap for the buggy.

The driver hit the horse with the whip and it plunged up the street. Miss Weston stood speechless.

Before she realized what had happened the men were out of sight around the corner and pursuit was useless.

A half hour later three men driving a black horse to a buggy appeared at the corner of Twentieth street and Cass avenue. They got out, lit the horse and then all three boarded a west-bound Cass avenue car. They did not come back to claim the rig and the police took charge of it.

It was presumably stolen and they are awaiting a claimant for it.

From descriptions it is evident that the men who deserted it were those who relieved Miss Weston so neatly of her purse.

As they got off so safely at their first dash, the young bandits apparently thought it was too good a thing not to work thoroughly, landing her passengers safely. The boat has been on fire for the past ten days. The crew by heroic efforts succeeded in keeping the fire under control.

Presumably they stole another horse and buggy, for on this occasion the animal was a bay.

Mrs. William Hoppaugh, whose husband is foreman at Keyes & Watkins' livery stable, Vandeventer and Washington avenues, lives at 720 North Vandeventer. She is an elderly lady, perhaps 50 years of age, and as meek and timid as most nice old ladies are.

About 3 o'clock she was returning from a shopping trip. She carries her purse in her pocket as a rule, but as she came near her house she drew it out with the latch key, which she expected to use.

She had hardly done so when a bay horse with a storm buggy containing three men came jogging along south on Vandeventer avenue. The rig passed Mrs. Hoppaugh, and she paid not the slightest attention to it.

The men stopped just after passing, and a young, smooth faced fellow in a steady dun-colored suit got out. He walked deliberately up behind the woman, who was about to enter her doorway.

She heard his steps, and turned in curiosity to see who it was. As she did so she lifted to a level with her shoulder the hand carrying the purse.

The man in the dun-colored suit reached over and took it from her. He did not speak.

Then he wheeled and made a dash for the buggy.

Mrs. Hoppaugh turned. She saw the two men who had remained in the rig lift up the back curtain.

The man with the pocketbook made a dive. His companions grabbed him and jerked him inside.

Little Otto Derecksey stood alongside. He heard the purse snatcher say, "I got it," and then they whipped up the horse.

A dozen men saw the daring deed, but they were paralyzed with it and the quickness with which it was accomplished. They stood and looked at the rig as it turned careening to one side and dashed west on Delmar avenue.

Dave Punch of 387 Delmar avenue was in front of his house when the trio whirled by. So was his wheel. He jumped astride the steel machine and started after them.

But Dave is no circuit chaser. By the time he got to Whittier street he was badly in need of breath, and when the fugitives turned over toward Washington avenue he gave up in despair.

R. E. Lee of 443 Delmar avenue was one of the men who witnessed the robbery. He says he can identify all three men as being very youthful in appearance, none of them being over 19 years of age. They were poorly dressed.

This additional feather in their cap gave the young bandits added boldness. Where they spent the next hour and a half is not known, but they showed up on Park avenue as chippers as you please, about 3:30.

Mrs. Mary Leidig was walking along the street without thought of fear. She, too, was disobeying Judge Murphy's mandate. She had her purse in her hand, thus wrongfully exciting the cupidity of the boys in the buggy.

They played exactly the same tricks on her. A blue-eyed, blond-haired chap, with a blue shirt and dark suit of clothes on, jumped out of the buggy and snatched the purse before she could say Jack Robinson. Then he was off and away the trio went, with no one in pursuit.

Fortunately for Mrs. Leidig's exchequer she had but $1 in the pocketbook.

Chief Desmond insists that he will have the highwaymen in a day or two.

"They are only boys," he said. "We have good descriptions of them and it is only a question of a short time when we will catch them."

The chief does not think that Mickey Mack is connected with the robberies.

Kansas Bank Failure.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 20.—The Argentine Bank of Argentina, Kan., was closed yesterday by Bank Examiner Waterman.

He says the bank has some bad loans out and could not make collections to tide over. Liabilities are $185,000, of which $125,000 are deposits. The cash on hand is $7,500. An attempt will be made to reorganize.

FOR STEALING A HORSE.

Langdon Had First Sold Him, but Hadn't Got the Price.

A warrant was issued Thursday by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Johnson charging George Langdon with grand larceny.

Langdon lives at 273 Franklin avenue. The warrant was issued at the request of Mrs. A. Knight of 3238 Morgan street.

About a month ago Mrs. Knight alleges that she bought a horse of Langdon. The price was $25. She paid $15 down, and was to pay the remainder at her pleasure.

Mrs. Knight admitted she had made only the first payment. Wednesday, she alleges, Langdon came to her barn, took the horse and took it across the river to Illinois.

MIKEY M'NAMARA, ALIAS MICKEY MACK.

TOUGH LITTLE MICKEY MACK.

THE WHOLE POLICE FORCE IS TRYING TO CATCH HIM.

IMPUDENTLY STAYS IN TOWN.

Mickey Has Served a Term in the Pen and Continues to Lead the Life of a Desperate Criminal.

Chief of Detectives Desmond is particularly anxious to interview Mickey Mack, the notorious little thief who has been impudently staying in town, knowing that

William Q. Marcom, Chief Clerk of the Auditing Department of the Missouri Pacific Railway, hasn't been working for several days.

John Victor, Yardmaster for the Terminal Railway in East St. Louis, is also laying off.

Both men are bruised and disfigured and under the care of their doctors.

Victor's beautiful wife has returned to the home of her parents and Victor is arranging with an attorney to begin divorce proceedings.

The Victors have been living at 1614 Compton avenue and the neighbors say that Mrs. Victor has been away from home a great deal while her husband was attending to his duties on the other side of the river.

This came to the ears of the husband and, at the suggestion of a friend to whom he confided his suspicions, detectives were employed to watch Mrs. Victor.

The detectives followed her to the home of her parents and there they found her. She was with a man who was not her husband, and she was in a compromising position.

The service lasted nearly an hour and was as quiet as a Quaker meeting. Only a small crowd followed them back to the barracks, and there was an utter absence of disturbance.

Later in the evening the monotony was relieved by a few stones and nails being heaved through an open window into the hall, and the police were sent for but no arrests were made.

One dangerous person was apprehended on the square, however. He was Morrison Koerner, the 12-year-old son of Mr. G. Koerner, the prominent attorney. Officer Phil Brown told him to move on, and the youngster "climbed" him, allowing that he had as much right on the public square as the officer. He was arrested and taken to the station and looked up until Capt. Yackel released him with an admonishment to be a better boy.

The boy's father arrived a moment later, and could scarcely control his pained and indignant feelings, declaring his intention to have redress for the indignity to which his son had been subjected.

Officer Brown says the boy was very impudent. Officer Kaufman says he merely observed the orders left by Captain Yackel when he left for the square in looking the lad up, and Captain Yackel says the orders were intended to be carried out with discretion.

John Hensch, the Anarchoist editor who incited the riots on two or more occasions, is still at large. Chief Obert says he will arrest the fellow if the Mayor wants me to, you bet.

Two Alleged Actors Arrested With a Hack Load of Bed Clothes.

John Gillespie, whose stage name is Davis, and Walter Hurd, who gave their occupations as actors, were arrested Wednesday night in a hack on Clark avenue by Patrolmen Peters and Falvey, and Serg. Dawson of the Central District.

Gillespie and Hurd had the hack piled almost full with sheets and pillowcases, and were making a house-to-house canvass of the scorched district on lower Clark avenue in an endeavor to sell the stolen goods to the scarlet women.

An investigation as to how the two Thespians came in possession of the bed clothes revealed the fact that the doors to the rooming house over Gruen's saloon at Broadway and Elm street, had been battered in and the house searched.

Gillespie and Hurd were charged with having gone to the house where they formerly roomed and upon being charged with the same, they fled. They were caught by a chance encounter with the police.

The doors to all the rooms were locked, and they were beaten in the same as the front door. The bed clothes were piled up at the foot of the stairs. A hack was called and the sheets and pillowcases, bedclothes and blankets and a mattress were piled into the vehicle.

The pair began a tour of the resorts in the neighborhood, but were arrested before they had disposed of any of the goods.

JACK VICTOR'S FLAT IS VACANT.

HIS PRETTY WIFE HAS GONE BACK TO HER PARENTS.

THERE WILL BE A DIVORCE.

After the Separation Mr. Victor Fought With Mr. Marcom Until Both Were Ready for the Doctors.

William Q. Marcom, Chief Clerk of the Auditing Department of the Missouri Pacific Railway, hasn't been working for several days.

John Victor, Yardmaster for the Terminal Railway in East St. Louis, is also laying off.

Both men are bruised and disfigured and under the care of their doctors.

Victor's beautiful wife has returned to the home of her parents and Victor is arranging with an attorney to begin divorce proceedings.

The Victors have been living at 1614 Compton avenue and the neighbors say that Mrs. Victor has been away from home a great deal while her husband was attending to his duties on the other side of the river.

Burglars crawled into the open window in the front of G. P. Gehring's residence, at 1211 Washington avenue, Wednesday night.

THE SALVATIONISTS WERE PROTECTED.

A PEACEABLE MEETING HELD ON THE SQUARE AT BELLEVILLE.

ONE SMALL BOY ARRESTED.

Chief Obert, With a Cordon of Police, Marched With the Army—Mayor Sunkel Is Mad.

White-winged peace for the first time in many a night hovered over the Public Square at Belleville Wednesday evening. It was proven, as has been contended from the first by everyone conversant with the situation, that the police force of the city was capable of maintaining order and securing to the despised Salvationists their legal and constitutional rights. Credit for the gratifying result is hard to place. The city officials are as averse to either widening responsibility for the restoration of order as they have been to shouldering the blame for the continuance of the riotous demonstrations.

It is believed, however, that Mayor Fritz Sunkel is guilting of taking any part against the hoodlums.

After the disappointing experience with the Mayor's ideas of order Tuesday evening, Capt. Anderson determined to have an understanding, and taking with him his brother and Dr. Washington West, as witnesses, called at the Mayor's office.

When the red-coated soldiers and the pious doctor entered the august Mayoral presence, Mr. Sunkel flushed with instinctive antagonism, but he was mindful enough of the common claims of courtesy to proffer them seats.

Capt. Anderson with much misgiving haltingly explained the errand. The angry color in the Mayor's face deepened to purple. His choleric choked utterance, "He does just what he pleases," gave every one all the protection he can," he spluttered, "I will guard you from physical injury, but I won't stop the disturbance. The majority must rule."

Exploding with wrath he strode into the City Clerk's office and slammed the wicket behind him.

Capt. Anderson looked at Dr. West and Dr. West looked at Captain Anderson. Then since there was nothing else left for them to do, they arose and quietly left the room.

Up to a quarter after 7 in the evening this situation, the hoodlum element being according to the Mayor's declaration, in the majority, were to derive from that fact the privilege to abrogate the Constitution and defy the law so long as they killed no one.

At the hour mentioned, however, Chief Fritz Obert, accompanied by one of the Aldermen, called at the barracks and announced that the army was to enjoy the luxury of absolute protection, requesting him at the same time not to come out on the square until the order was given.

The fire police might be called in from their beats and be stationed on the square. When the army appeared at that hour the square was covered with people. The police moved about briskly, nearly frowning the small boys into fits by their fierce demeanor and imperative commands to "move on."

Chief Obert had his cigars along. He struck a match on the hitching rack as the soldiers approached singing an old Methodist hymn, lighted one of them and puffing away ferociously, marched at the head of the column, swishing around with his cane and punctuating his admonishments to the small boys to "clear out" with vigorous prods where they would do the most good.

The crowd stood still until the army had made the usual detour and mounted the steps of the Court-house, then it closed up and formed a compact mass, extending nearly to Main street. Half a dozen officers formed a circle and kept the crowd from the base of the steps and the rest kept moving hither and thither in the crowd. The silence was oppressive and the lungs of the toughs, unused to such unnatural restraint, began to ache under the tension. One or two of them couldn't stand and let out little yelps, but the police hustled around briskly and it was not repeated.

Hans Schwart, did not appear and his Lieutenant, "Brushy," could not brush up enough confidence to make a break, although once he broke the cordon of police and walked with an air of bravado across the cleared space, "Brushy" has a powerful pull and Chief Obert merely batted his eyes and smoked his cigar.

The service lasted nearly an hour and was as quiet as a Quaker meeting. Only a small crowd followed them back to the barracks, and there was an utter absence of disturbance.

Later in the evening the monotony was relieved by a few stones and nails being heaved through an open window into the hall, and the police were sent for but no arrests were made.

Burglars Made a Nice Haul on Washington Avenue.

Burglars crawled into the open window in the front of G. P. Gehring's residence, at 1211 Washington avenue, Wednesday night.

Nothing in the house was disturbed except Mr. Gehring's clothes. From them the burglars took $25 in money, a roll worth $20 and a chain valued at $15.

In the shirt on the dresser was a diamond stud worth $25, but this the burglars did not take.

Mr. Gehring has offered $250 reward for the capture and conviction of the burglars and the return of the stolen property.

LOVE IS CRUEL.

He walked restlessly up and down the corridor. Occasionally he stopped to look out of a window, but mechanically, without seeing anything distinctly. The street lamps increased themselves on his retina only as blurs of light. The passers-by were vague shadows. He was so full of his own thoughts, of his own anxieties, that he was for the time unconscious of things external. He consulted his watch.
How slowly the minutes went! Surely it must now be over half past six and forth he strode, with knit brows and clenched hands, his footsteps sounding on the hard floor. There was a low murmur of voices from within, directions asked and commands given. He resumed his walk. Suddenly he started as if electrified.
He had heard the feeble wail of an infant.

"Good God!" he said, "it is over!" but he dared not turn into the room, for he heard throbbing with unaccounted for frenzy. Presently the door opened and John, the doctor, came out. He looked worn and weary.

"How is she?" asked John Marsden, moistening his dry lips as he spoke.
"It's a troublesome case," said the doctor briefly.

"And—the child?"
"She wants to be put to rest," said the doctor.

"Not yet, please. I will send for you.
Watch her until she is asleep, and then come back. Can you give me a message?"

"I will go myself."
The doctor scribbled a few lines in his notebook, then he turned and went out.
Marsden, hastily snatching his hat as he passed him, disappeared into the night.

And back the doctor was still in the corridor waiting for his return. Through the half-open door behind him came a low moaning.

Marsden shuddered and turned away, his face convulsed by a spasm. The doctor entered and closed the door softly. Slowly, slowly, the minutes went by. Marsden stood and waited.

"Oh, let me pass!"
"She wants to be put to rest," said the doctor.

"Not yet, please. I will send for you.
